PROJECT TITLE	CREATING A LANDING PAGE USING HUBSPOT

OPEN SOURCE FRAME WORK FOR CREATING A LANDING PAGE USING HUBSPOT ?

HubSpot typically provides its own proprietary platform and tools for creating landing pages. However, if you are looking for opensource alternatives to create landing pages with similar features and functionality, you can explore the following content management systems (CMS) and frameworks that can be used to build landing pages:

1. WordPress:

   WordPress is a popular opensource CMS that offers a wide range of page builder plugins and themes that allow you to create landing pages. Plugins like Elementor, Beaver Builder, and Divi provide dragand drop page building capabilities and integrate with HubSpot for lead capture.

2. Joomla:

   Joomla is another opensource CMS that provides extensions and templates for creating landing pages. Extensions like SP Page Builder or Quix Page Builder offer a visual page building experience.
3. Drupal:

Drupal is a flexible CMS that allows you to build custom landing pages with its modules and themes. You can create landing page content types and use modules like Paragraphs for building flexible layouts.

4. Grav:

Grav is a flatfile CMS that offers simplicity and speed. You can use themes and modular content components to create landing pages.

5. Landingi:

While not opensource, Landingi is a dedicated landing page platform that offers a free plan. It provides a userfriendly draganddrop editor, A/B testing, and integration with various email marketing and CRM tools.

6. Gravitec Landing Page Builder:

Gravitec offers a landing page builder that's specifically designed for creating landing pages and optin forms. It includes templates and integrations with email marketing tools.

7. Ghost:

Ghost is a CMS primarily for bloggers, but it can be used to create simple landing pages. It's known for its clean and minimalistic design.

8. Tilda:

Tilda is not opensource, but it's an affordable landing page builder that provides a range of templates and drag and drop page building features.
